- 658 Society for the Protection of Life from Fire, bronze medal, awarded to Thomas Hughes, Colney Hatch, 27th January 1903, with ribbon and buckle clasp, mounted and framed.

Notes: On January 27, 1903, a devastating fire engulfed the Colney Hatch Asylum in London, marking one of the darkest moments in the history of mental health care. The blaze, which started in the attic, quickly spread throughout the sprawling facility, claiming lives and exposing the dire conditions faced by patients in asylums of the time. The Colney Hatch fire stands as a tragic reminder of the challenges and neglect faced by those with mental illnesses in the early 20th century. However, it also catalysed significant reforms in mental health care, leading to improvements in treatment and the eventual closure of large, outdated asylums.
